The purpose of these guidelines is to ensure that trademarks, service marks, trade names, logos, product names, and other brand features, whether registered or unregistered, (collectively, “Trademarks”) are used in a manner that protects their value and complies with legal requirements.

1. Permitted Uses of UJAM Trademarks

You do not require UJAM’s express permission when using UJAM’s Trademarks to refer to UJAM products or services; provided that the references are truthful, fair, do not violate Section 2 (“Prohibited Uses”) of these Trademark Guidelines or suggest UJAM’s sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of your products or services. Unless otherwise permitted by applicable law, any other use of UJAM’s Trademarks requires UJAM’s prior express written permission.
- 1.3. When using UJAM’s Trademarks, proper attribution of trademark ownership should be included and displayed as follows on/in the page, content, media, or materials which display or otherwise refer to UJAM’s Trademarks:

- 1.4. UJAM’s Trademarks may not be used in any manner as described below under Section 2 (“Prohibited Use”).

2. Prohibited Uses

- 2.1. In no event may UJAM’s Trademarks be used in a manner that is misleading, confusing, untruthful, unlawful, defamatory, obscene, racist, sexist, or in connection with any illegal activities.
- 2.2. Unless permitted under applicable law, UJAM’s or third-party Trademarks may not be altered, modified, or changed in any way.
- 2.3. Any use of the UJAM Trademarks shall be prohibited, with the exception of the permitted uses specified above under Section 1 (“Permitted Uses of UJAM’s Trademarks”) or as permitted by applicable law.

3. Use of Third-Party Trademarks
